PCC Hosts Union Ceremony

The Pride Community Center of North Central Florida hosted its first ever union ceremony and reception uniting Neil Powell and Robert Sandbach on April 28, 2013. For the ceremony, Neil was attended by his friend Candice Warren and Robert was attended by his sister Rebecca Sandbach. Alan Bickford, father of a friend of the couple, officiated the ceremony, and about 40 guests attended and had a wonderful time.

The couple returned home to Gainesville, FL after the ceremony and plan to honeymoon in Jacksonville, FL, for one week later this summer.

Congratulations, Michael O'Connell!

COME OUT AS YOU ARE!

Many thanks to all who participated in the Pride 2013 Logo Contest! Michael O'Connell's submission was chosen for this year's Pride logo.

Everyone's Doing It: Stop AIDS Now Aims to Reduce the Spread of HIV Locally

A new High Impact Prevention (HIP) project by WellFlorida Council is aiming to decrease the spread of HIV and link HIV-infected individuals to prevention and care services in Alachua, Marion and Putnam counties.

Everyone's Doing It, It's Everyone's Business and ARTAS are components of the HIP project, which is funded by the Department of Health.

Everyone's Doing It promotes condom use and HIV testing throughout the three counties. Testing is confidential and teens do not need parental consent to be tested for HIV. Locate HIV testing sites and events at EveryoneStopAIDSNow.org.

WellFlorida is also offering free HIV testing Monday through Friday by appointment only. WellFlorida, is located at 1785 NW 80th Blvd., Gainesville. Call 352-313-6500 ext. 120 for more information.

It's Everyone's Business is a partnership between WellFlorida and local businesses that are interested in sharing HIV prevention messages and materials with their customers, employees and other neighborhood businesses. Some of these businesses provide free condoms and serve as HIV-testing sites. Businesses currently participating in the program include: Alter Ego Fitness, Beach Break Salon, Civic Media Center, Club 12/Decadence, Lee Conlee House, Ocala Pride, Peaceful Paths, Rural Women's Health Project, The Pub, The Copa Nightclub & Tropix Restaurant, The House, University Club, Vicks Supper Club, and Wild Iris Books.

"Getting businesses involved is really key to stopping the spread of AIDS in our communities," said Shane Bailey, director of community initiatives at WellFlorida. "Businesses are in the community—they reach a lot of people. They can help get the word out about HIV prevention and reduce the stigma and complacency associated with it."

Businesses interested in participating in the program can contact Naomi at naomiak@wellflorida.org or call 352-313-6500 ext. 120.

Individuals who have recently been diagnosed with HIV or who have HIV but have not received medical care in six months are encouraged to contact ARTAS. ARTAS, the third component of the WellFlorida project, stands for

"Anti-Retroviral Treatment and Access to Services."

ARTAS links people to the care and resources they need. For more information, visit ARTAS at EveryoneStopAIDSNow.org or call 352-313-6500 ext 120.

WellFlorida Council Inc., located in Gainesville, Fla., is a private, nonprofit 501(c)(3) organization created in 1969. WellFlorida is the state designated local health council for North Central Florida and specializes in health consultancy for clients and projects throughout the state. WellFlorida's mission is to forge partnerships in planning, research and service that build healthier communities. Visit www.wellflorida.org for more information.
